ACCESSING YOUR MEAL CARD

The school ID card is personalized student identification used for campus meal plan purchases and is non-transferable. The bar code accesses your meal plan credit. Consequently, your ID card should be kept secure and handled with care. All lost ID cards must be reported to the Food Services Office immediately.

PURCHASING ADDITIONAL MEAL PLAN CREDIT

If your meal plan credit runs out before the end of the semester, you may purchase additional meal plan credit at the Student Finance Office or by direct payment at the Food Services Office.

TRACKING YOUR MEAL PLAN CREDIT BALANCE

Each time you make a purchase with your meal card, the cashier will be able to tell you how much you spent and what your new balance is. Please advise the cashier right away if you notice a discrepancy. You are in control of your own meal plan credit budget and have complete flexibility in menu selection.

PRICING: MAIN CAFETERIA DINING ROOM

The price you will be paying for food purchases is at “cost” since the overhead costs are already included in the Basic Meal Plan package. You will be charged for take-out trays and all disposables as well as individually packaged condiments.

PRICING: CAMPUS SNACK SHOP

The Campus Snack Shop will offer “snack” food, beverages and items such as French fries, corn dogs, chik’n nuggets, burgers and burritos. These items are sold to you at “regular retail” pricing. Some items will be GST applicable as per federal regulations.

FEEDING OTHERS

You may feed others with your meal plan credit. However, please note this would reduce your meal plan credit significantly as all guests (including parents, siblings and other family members) will be charged “regular retail” prices.
